SNAP ASSISTANCE DURING CORONAVIRUS

Do you receive SNAP Benefits?

Many New Jerseyans who receive food assistance through NJ SNAP will receive a higher benefit in May to help address critical food needs related to the COVID-19 pandemic.

You will receive the difference between your regular SNAP and the maximum benefit for your family size.

For example, if you are a family of one, the maximum benefit is $194 per month so you will receive the difference between your regular monthly amount and $194.

For a family of three the maximum amount is $509, so you will receive the difference between your regular monthly amount and $509.

The extra benefit will be added directly to your families EBT card. You will receive your May SNAP benefits during your regular time at the new maximum level.

If you want to check your balance before you go to the grocery store, please visit www.NJFamiliesFirst.com where you can view your current card balance and transaction history, or call the number on your card to hear the information.

This institution is an equal opportunity provider.